PESSENAR OFFERS NEW BUS PARKING TERMINAL

Railroad Avenue Hotel Man Suggests Removing Central Bus Terminal From Broadway to Thomas Street—Public Works Board to Recommend Change to Aldermen.

Attorney Francis C. Merritt was present at the regular monthly meeting of the board of public works Tuesday evening at the city hall and submitted a written offer from Joseph S. Pessenar, the Railroad Avenue hotel man, offering the use of his grounds on Thomas street for a parking place for autobus lines, and the use of a properly fitted room for a terminal for passengers.

When the bus terminals were established in Kingston it was decided that it would be best to have three terminals, one on the Strand, one on Central Broadway, and the other at the Kingston Hotel on Crown street. Since the establishment of the bus terminal in Winter's lunch room at No. 563 Broadway, complaints have been lodged with the common council that the big auto busses park in front of the terminal and block traffic.

The merchants on that side of Broadway, between the railroad crossing and Cedar street, prepared a petition which was presented to the common council at the last meeting asking that the busses be parked somewhere else and only drive up to the terminal ten minutes before leaving time. The petition was signed by every merchant on that side of the street including Mr. Winter.

At the last session of the common council several of the bus line owners were present and stated that ten minutes was not a long enough period to be allowed to park in front of the terminal.

The parking question on that part of Broadway has led Mr. Pessenar to come forward with his proposition which is a solution of the problem. Mr. Pessenar, in brief was that he offered to furnish the bus lines a parking place on his premises on Thomas street, which will accommodate from six to seven busses at a time, free of charge, and would lease for the purpose of a waiting room a suitable room adjoining the parking place for such a sum as may be agreed upon with the city. The entrance and exit from the parking place and waiting room would be through Thomas street.

The board, after talking the matter over, decided to recommend to the common council that the offer of Mr. Pessenar be accepted, and that the bus terminal be changed from central Broadway to Thomas street. Mayor Crane presided at the session with Commissioners Frank B. Matthews, William H. Van Eiten, John Hiltbrant and Seligman Oppenheimer present.

Applications to erect electric signs in front of the Albert J. Gibson restaurant at No. 314 Fair street, and the place of business of Harry Swart at No. 70 North Front street, were granted, provided the ordinance was complied with.

A letter of thanks was received from the officers of the Congregational Sunday school of Saugerties for the use of Forsyth Park for a picnic, which was held.

It was brought out that a local organization was desirous of having permission to hold a picnic in Forsyth Park on a Sunday to raise funds. Under the terms on which the park was conveyed to the city the request could not be granted.

Property owners on Spring street, between Ravine and Hunter streets, petitioned the board to build a sanitary sewer in that street. The petition was referred to the street committee and superintendent.

A petition from property owners on New street and Montrose avenue was received asking that the board take some action to relieve conditions there following a heavy rain when the present sewer facilities were inadequate to carry off the rain fall and as a result the cellars were flooded. It was referred to the street committee and superintendent.

NONE TALKED AT RENT HEARING

Common Council Held Last Public Hearing on Profiteering Tuesday—No Verbal Complaints Made but Aldermen Have Twenty Written Communications.

The last of the series of public hearings on rent profiteering in Kingston was held Tuesday evening at the city hall by the common council. The meeting opened promptly at 8 o'clock and was held open for twenty minutes to give any one a chance to be heard, but no one cared to make a verbal complaint in public and the council adjourned. The meeting that evening was the smallest in attendance in the series. It was stated by the aldermen, however, that they have about twenty written communications from aggrieved rent payers. These letters will be considered at an executive session the council will hold with Mayor Crane, Corporation Counsel Walter N. Gill, and City Assessor Johnston.

As the council had only met to give rent payers who felt that their landlords were profiteering a chance to be heard. No other business was taken up and the next meeting of the council will be the regular monthly session in August.

COLLINS WILL FIGHT TO FINISH

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Dublin, July 26.—Activities on the part of the Republican irregulars have been steadily increasing in this city during the past 24 hours. There were two bomb outrages in the center of the city early today. Revolver and rifle fire was almost continuous. Seven persons were arrested as snipers.

The situation throughout southern Ireland continues favorable for the Free State troops. The lord mayor of Cork is heading a delegation to Dublin which will attempt to bring about an armistice. They will propose that the new Daily Bireann form a "peace committee" to work out the terms of settlement between the rebels and the Free Staters.

Members of the Irish provisional government said that the resignation of George Gavan Duffy as foreign minister would not alter the strong policy of Michael Collins. Collins is determined to "clean up" Ireland once for all and to bring about a definite decision between the supporters of the Free State and the rebels.

Taxi Drivers Arrested. Tuesday Officer Aley arrested Charles Stork and E. A. Osterhout, two taxi drivers, on a charge of violating the taxi ordinance on Railroad avenue in soliciting fares while standing more than five feet from their cars. The hearing will be held later. Fred Dahlem of this city was arrested by Officer Soper on a charge of speeding. His case comes up later in police court.

It was stated that the water board would lay the mains if the board of public works would place the street in shape. This will be done.

The board tabled a resolution from the common council asking that Sunday baseball be allowed at Hasbrouck Park.

A number of routine matters were disposed of and the board then adjourned.

"ALL OR NONE" IS UNION MOTTO

Leaders Firm Against Separate Peace Negotiations With Railroads—Much Depends on Result of B. & O. Negotiations.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Chicago, July 26.—"Stand firm and stick together," appeared today to be the slogan of the striking railway shopmen as negotiations for settlement of the walkout reached a stage where each side apparently was waiting for the next move of the opposition.

The faces of the union leaders, headed by B. M. Jewell, president of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of labor, were set firm against any "separate peace" with individual railroads.

Much interest was being manifested here in the efforts of Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio, to reach a separate agreement with employees of that road. Union leaders openly admit that if the Baltimore and Ohio peace move is successful and that if other roads take a similar course, it will mean failure of the strike.

Several overtures from regional leaders of the strikers to be allowed to negotiate separate agreements with the railroads have been vigorously discouraged by Jewell and his associates. It is known. It is also reported on excellent authority that several railroad executives have come to Jewell with proposals for separate peace and have been emphatically turned down.

The stand of the strike leaders is that any peace agreement must apply to all railroads of the country and evidence today was that they were digging in for a finish fight to achieve this end.

PENN. R.R. OFFICIAL AT WHITE HOUSE

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, July 26.—W. W. Atterbury, vice-president of the Pennsylvania lines, and considered the most avowed opponent of concessions to the striking railway workers, went to the White House for a conference with President Harding today. He was accompanied by Secretary of Commerce Hoover and James C. Davis, director-general of railroads.

The Pennsylvania lines and its subsidiaries will be called upon to transport a large part of the coal from the non-union producing fields.

B. & O. CONFERENCE STILL IN SESSION

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Baltimore, Md., July 26.—After a four and a half hour conference yesterday which was marked throughout by a harmonious discussion of the issues and a desire on both sides to get together, Baltimore and Ohio railroad officials and strike leaders resumed their peace conference at 10 o'clock this morning.

Whether or not seniority was discussed could not be learned from either side today. The conference was the first effort by any individual railroad to settle its own labor troubles.

The principal office is in Saugerties and the amount of capital in which the corporation will be in business is $5,000. The three directors are David Schoenlag, C. J. Schoenlag and J. E. Thode.

Truck Only Slightly Damaged.

The big Mack truck of the Telephone Company, which went off the road Monday on the Plank road, was hauled out of the ditch Tuesday with a block and fall and outside of a badly broken body is little the worse for the smash. The truck was brought to this city and this morning attracted attention as it was driven about the streets under its own power.

Pastors' Salaries Increased.

Twenty-three of the Methodist Episcopal Churches of the Kingston district have increased their pastors' salaries this year. The total annual increase amounts to $3,500. With one exception, they represent the smaller churches in the country or village.

SENIORITY RULE BARS SETTLEMENT

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, July 26.—The strike of railroad shopmen has reached its most critical stage, according to members of the central strike committee of the New York district today. The following statement, commenting upon the action of the government in suggesting a waiver on priority rights was issued by David Williams, chairman of the committee:

"The United States government has now officially declared that the railroads are unable properly and completely to serve the public."

"The government has issued drastic priority orders. The American people, however, need no further evidence that a serious railroad crisis now exists. The United States government has now officially intimated that the insistence of a certain small group of railroad executives on denying the strikers seniority is all that prevents a settlement of the strike. The American people know that the executives are the Atterbury-Loray group backed by the Morgan-Gary interests."

A locomotive accident in Jersey City this morning delayed thousands of commuters on their way to work. The rim of a driving wheel on an Erie locomotive came off.

EDDYVILLE OLD-TIMER VISITS KINGSTON AND IS DELIGHTED.

Adam Imhoff, for many years a well known newsdealer at Eddyville, who has been a resident of Stamford, Conn., for the past five years, was in town today calling on old friends and acquaintances. This is Mr. Imhoff's first visit to Kingston since he removed to Stamford five years ago and he was enthusiastic over the large number of improvements which he noticed. Three years ago Mr. Imhoff was the victim of an automobile accident and injured his hip, and since that time he has been unable to lead as active a life as before. Otherwise he enjoys excellent health. Mr. Imhoff is well known as a Grand Army veteran, and for many years represented the Eddyville district as a delegate in Republican conventions. On August 11 Mr. Imhoff will celebrate his 80th birthday anniversary and on August 13 his golden wedding anniversary.

APARTMENT HOUSE TO BE EQUIPPED WITH RADIO

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, July 26.—Radio service de luxe ranks as high among "modern conveniences" as gas, electric lights or modern plumbing among up-to-date builders. It was indicated today when the projectors of a 72-family apartment house in Newark announced their plans for a dual receiving station for their tenants.

Each set will have a large loop or "directional aerial" by operation of which separate programs may be gleaned from the ether at will. Twin circuits will feed each apartment so that tenants may select whichever program has a more special appeal.

Park and Patrol Leader Ralph Fisher of Casskill Troop No. 1, Boy Scouts of America, on Sunday made a bicycle hike to Phoenix by way of Palenville and Woodstock, covering between 70 and 80 miles during the day. Young Man Was in Swimming With Other Boys on the Annual Picnic of Rondout Presbyterian Sunday School Today—Body Was Recovered.

Maxwell Russell, 17 years old, a son of Principal Arthur H. Russell of School No. 2, was drowned at Legg's Mills this afternoon while in swimming. The young man was a member of the Rondout Presbyterian Sunday school which was holding its annual picnic at Legg's Mills today. With several other boys he had gone to swimming. The other lads missed young Maxwell and a search was instituted and his body found lying on the bottom of the stream in the weeds. It was brought to the surface and every effort made to revive him. Dr. E. E. Norwood and Dr. Juggals went to the scene with the pulmotor from the city hall and found that Dr. E. H. Loughran who was on the scene had been working unsuccessfully to revive the youth. The young man was a member of this year's graduating class of Kingston high school and held in high esteem by all who knew him.

RAILROADS ARE OPERATING UNDER WAR TIME REGULATIONS AGAIN

Interstate Commerce Commission is in Charge and Has Issued Priority Orders and Directions for the Shipping of Freight by the Shortest or Least Congested Routes.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, July 26.—The nation went back to war time regulations of the railroads today, while peace in the industrial chaos brought on by the paralyzing rail and coal strikes appeared almost as far distant as ever.

For all practical purposes, the railroads of the country, with their 250,000 miles of tracks, were merged into one gigantic system today, with interchangeable equipment, and operating under orders to move food and fuel above all else. The Interstate Commerce Commission, with its broad powers derived from the Transportation Act, became overnight a miniature railroad administration empowered to suspend all rules and regulations, and to enforce its fuel and food carrying orders under heavy penalties.

The national emergency declared by the commission and the priority ratings accorded shipments of fuel and food on all railroads will, government officials believe, reduce public suffering and inconvenience to the minimum, while at the same time affording the government a breathing spell to figure on new methods of settling the strikes.

That the action through the Interstate Commerce Commission is only a palliative, and not a cure, was generally recognized by administration officials. The cure can only come through a resumption of mining on a large scale in mines now idle for four months and through expert labor being attracted into the repair shops of the railroads to work on rapidly deteriorating equipment.

There were few indications today that the government contemplated any immediate steps in the direction of restoring peace in either the rail or coal strikes.

For the time being, it appeared, the administration is going to devote its major efforts to insuring the movement of life's necessities, food and fuel and to prevention of profiteering.

The experiment of trying to mine coal with volunteer workers under troop protection will be given a thorough testing before any additional action is taken in the coal situation, it was said at the White House.

"The government's chief concern at this time," said an authorized spokesman for the administration, "is to create a condition in which men may work if they choose" to work, with the guaranty that the government will protect them. If it is shown that no men want to work under those conditions, then other steps will have to be taken."

The implication was plain that "other steps" meant government seizure of the mines, and an invitation to the United Mine Workers to come back and work for the government under the old piece agreement.

Officials were hopeful today that John L. Lewis' recent invitation to the operators to discuss a national agreement might lead to something. It is known that many of the operators frankly favor a national agreement, but the "die hard" element among the operators controls enough tonnage to have blocked, so far, the chances of a joint conference. Whether there has been a change of sentiment on the part of these "die hards" probably will be disclosed next week.

In the rail strike, President Harding still considers that the burden of responsibility rests with the Railway Labor Board, it was reiterated at the White House today.

While the nation went on war time rationing today, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, charged anew that a small group of Wall street railway

MORE SHOPMEN GO ON STRIKE

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Philadelphia, July 26.—Two hundred and fifty shopmen on the Philadelphia and Reading railroad are said by other shop workers to have walked out today in protest against the forwarding of cars and locomotives in need of repairs from Rutherford, Pa., to this city.

According to the shopmen, 95 per cent of the men at Rutherford are on strike. Officials of the road refused to confirm the walkout here.

THEY DIDN'T GO.

Instead They Beat Miske Until He Opened Fire.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Chicago, July 26.—Disorder during which four revolver shots were fired broke out near the shops of the Illinois Central Railroad at Burnside today.

The riot occurred as Paul Miske, a non-union mechanic, was stopped on his way to work by a group of strikers.

"You've got to quit work, he was told."

"You go to hell," Miske was quoted as saying.

The men beat him about the head and face and he drew a revolver and fired. No one was struck by the bullets.

Fifteen policemen rushed to the scene and restored order with their clubs. Joseph Gemel was arrested as the leader of the strikers.

Tearing Up Railroads.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Belfast, July 26.—Irregular soldiers are tearing up the railroads in the Malahide region to cut communication between Belfast and Dublin, according to word from that region today. Rail communication had been interrupted between the two cities during the battle of Dublin but subsequently was restored.

Mountain Road Closed.

The mountain road under the Hurley mountains is closed, for the corner at Warren's farm to Lomontville during construction work but it is passable although dangerous to traffic. The road from Lomontville across the fording place to Hurley is being used.

One Train on Time.

Train 13 arrived at the union station this city, Tuesday evening at 7:15 o'clock, only five minutes late from New York. This train has been running from one-half hour to nearly three hours late for some time.

Officials were hopeful today that John L. Lewis' recent invitation to the operators to discuss a national agreement might lead to something.

The next step in the administration's plans calls for the appointment of the "presidential committee" to cooperate with the Interstate Commerce Commission in assuring an equitable distribution of available coal supplies, according to the need.

Secretary Hoover said today that administration would proceed at once with steps to put coal where coal is most needed. It is expected that President Harding will name the committee today. It will consist of representatives of the departments of justice, commerce and interior. This will be followed by the appointment of governmental representatives in various regions for cooperation with local authorities, under the Hoover plan.

MOUNTAIN ASSOCIATION PUBLICITY GIVES KINGSTON WIDESPREAD BOOST

The publicity work of the Catskills Shawangunk Mountain Association is giving to Kingston a type of publicity that is bound to bring certain results.

In a news letter which is being sent to the members of the association it is pointed out that magazines and newspapers are carrying stories of this region, with pictures of the new bridge and the many interesting bits of scenery to be seen within short riding distance of our city.

The Travel Map of the Land of Rip Van Winkle has established a reputation greater than any other single piece of literature describing this region that has ever been published. Some of the details of this distribution are interesting and may prove of special benefit to our city's business. Since April 1st this year the association has received requests for 15,114 copies of this map and has placed in hotels and other public places for distribution between 5,000 to 6,000 additional copies. Twenty-nine of the largest automobile clubs in this state have requested a supply of maps for their touring bureaus. Also benefit to everyone living in that the following list from more distant community.

Points are passing out the Travel Maps: The Automobile Clubs of Philadelphia, Cleveland, Ontario, Akron, Ohio, and Cincinnati, the Keystone Club, Berkshire County Club. Thirty-one distributing stations are in large stores, such as John Wamamaker's, Macy's, etc. Travel service and ticket offices and ten of the leading daily newspapers within a radius of 200 miles of our region keep a good supply of maps in their information bureaus. No one needs to speculate long as to the vast amount of good such publicity is doing for our city, as Kingston is the largest city in the Catskills-Shawangunk region and the principal gateway to this beautiful and interesting resort section.

It does seem that the Kingston Chamber of Commerce made a splendid move when it helped in the forming of this Mountain Association and through its continued operation with the association is in a measure bringing to our city and the trade of this surrounding territory.

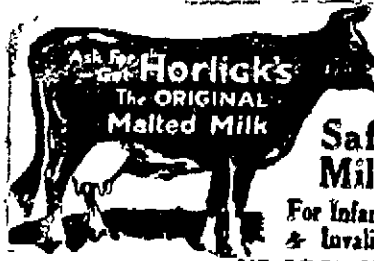

Every visitor to a community, whether his stay be long or short, is bound to leave a certain amount of money and every dollar left is a map for their touring bureaus. Also benefit to everyone living in that the following list from more distant community.

STEAMER ODELL WAS ROPEL FAST

Tuesday while the steamer Odell of the Central Hudson Line was making her berth in the Rondout creek one of the deck hands allowed one of the hawser ropes to have too much slack and as a result the rope wound itself tightly around the huge propeller blades.

Efforts to engage a diver to loose the hawser proved futile as none were available here. Finally one of the rowboats on the steamer was lowered, and some of the crew armed with sharp knives attacked the huge rope and cut part of it loose. The engine was then started, turning the propeller over a few times and the rope was finally loosened.

The Odell is not a sidewheeler like some of the other boats of the Central Hudson Line but is operated by a propeller in the rear of the boat.

THE OFFICE CAT

We heard of a remarkable wedding ceremony a few days ago. When the bridegroom was asked by the minister if he would "take this woman, etc." he blushed and replied, "well, I came with that intention."

Nineteen seniors at an Ohio girls' school are reported to be engaged. Yet people ask, "does education have any advantages?"

"Mummy," asked Murie, indignantly, "did you hear what auntie said to me?"
"Yes, dear," was the reply.
"Well, Mummy," shrilled the little maid rebelliously, "I am not going to be brought up by another woman."

Jack and Mary went to church with the grown-ups for the first time last Sunday. Monday afternoon they were found in the back yard playhouse, sitting side by side, and whispering to each other.

"What in the world are you playing?" asked mother.

"We're playing church," replied Jack.

"But you shouldn't whisper in church," protested mother.

"Oh," said Mary, "we're the choir."

The Tin Peddler's blind horse got scared at a mud hole and tried to run away this morning, relates the Dog Hill paragrapher. His progress was greatly retarded by the other mud holes.

Hupmobile Proves Over Again A Well Known Business Maxim

Ever since buyers began to demand real and greater value for their money, the Hupmobile has been winning an ever-widening circle of new owners.

This is the natural result of a human tendency well known to all merchants and manufacturers—that when people really seek out sound value for their money, they turn instinctively to that which is known to be good.

Everyone knows that it pays to own the Hupmobile—that its service is more reliable, its costs lower, its life longer, and that its value as an investment is higher.

We honestly believe that no motor car buyer who fully understood how little the Hupmobile costs to keep, and how finely it performs, ever allowed himself to buy anything that would give him less satisfaction in service and in costs.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

A Dainty Summer Frock for Youthful Figures.

4053. The new dainties, and prints are very attractive for a dress of this kind. White dimity with a figure in green and trimming of white organdy and green bias bands is here portrayed. The sleeve puffs may be omitted. The sash may be of organdy or ribbon. Net or point d'esprit would also be pleasing for this style.

The pattern is cut in 3 sizes: 16, 18, and 20 years. An 18 year size requires 5 1/2 yards of 32 inch material. If collars and puffs are made of contrasting material 1/2 yard of 40 inch material will be required. The width of the skirt at the foot is 2 1/2 yards.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department. The Freeman, Rondout, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

HARDING TALKS WITH R. R. MEN

Washington, July 2.—While President Harding still considers that settlement of the paralyzing railroad strike is up to the railroad labor board he nevertheless took here today what was regarded as an important step in the direction of restored peace.

The president inaugurated a series of personal conferences with railroad executives who have most violently opposed any concessions to the striking workers in the way of seniority rights.

The first of the executives to come to the White House was W. W. Atterbury, vice-president of the Pennsylvania lines, known to be the most rigid of the executives in opposition to the demands of the striking shopmen.

President Harding sent for General Atterbury and for more than an hour they discussed the issues of the strike.

Tomorrow President Harding has asked T. DeWitt Cuyler, president of the American Association of Railway Executives, to come for a similar conference.

KINGSTON, N. Y., JULY 26, 1922.

WOMEN SPEAK.

Women believe in fair play, party spirit and party solidarity. This was proved when the women's executive committee of the Republican state committee adopted a resolution calling attention to the wisdom of the Legislature in providing that delegates to the state convention shall be elected in primaries but not instructed to vote for any particular candidate. The purpose, as the resolution said, is to safeguard against the possibility of a usurpation of the functions of a representative convention, and to encourage a full and free exchange of views.

By adopting this resolution the women showed they are taking more than a casual interest in political matters and are trying to emphasize the fundamental principles of a convention. What they want, and apparently what they will see, is a convention where men and women will assemble to confer and talk over what is best for the Republican party and where principles will take precedence over persons.

As time goes on it would seem as if women were studying more intently those things which are a part of government than men. This may appear to be so because of the newness of women in politics, but whether it is or not they are surely giving thought to things that count and must apply to representative government is to advance and become more firmly embedded in the minds of the people as a success. Perhaps it may seem that they are more studious because of their activity, but that they are working to grasp what is meant by the right of franchise and its value there is no doubt whatever.

In the coming campaign women will be a formidable help. Not because of what they will do on election day, but rather because of what they have done already in touring the state to arouse interest of all women so they will do their duty as electors on November 7. This duty cannot be performed if women do not go to the polls, and now that they have the vote it they do not use it they will have to admit they shirked a responsibility.

OF NO IMPORTANCE

According to Wayne B. Wheeler of the Anti-Saloon League, the prohibition poll conducted by the Literary Digest is of no importance. Doubtless he is right, no matter what majority public sentiment may be shown to be when it is complete. There is a widespread impression that prohibition, having been adopted through the working of our governmental machinery in the prescribed and legal manner, will stand forever, no matter what majority sentiment may be now or in the future. Other laws may be repealed or modified, but not this one; even to propose to modify it in any way is a sort of treason, in the view of very many. The prohibition law is a curious exception among legislative acts, but undoubtedly such is the view firmly held by a large portion of the people and more or less reluctantly accepted or submitted to by another large portion.

Ohio," recalls one commenting editor, "is the only state in which the 18th amendment has run the gamut of a referendum. In this solitary instance the amendment lost, yet the result was in no way affected by the balloting. The Supreme Court promptly ruled that the ratification of the Legislature was sufficient, that the citizens of the state were constitutionally incompetent. It is interesting to recollect that the people of Ohio had no objection to a state prohibition law; what they appeared to dislike was Federal interference. Even this was an absurd preference in the eyes of Mr. Wheeler and his friends. Ohio not only had to have prohibition but had to have the brand of prohibition prescribed by a central moral trust with officers at Washington."

FREE TRADERS THEN.

Former Senator Cole, who served in the Senate from California in the six years following the Civil War, says that the faces in that body have changed but not the speeches. Doubtless the speeches on similar subjects contain similar arguments, but the sort of addresses one hears from different sections of the country have undergone a change. More and more the orators from the South are coming over to the idea of protection. Almost without exception they advocate protection for the products of their states, although loath to acknowledge that they are willing to see Republican tariff policies prevail. The steady growth of industry in the South means that protection will gain a stronger hold on the people, and another fifty years will witness an even greater change in the tone of her statesmen than has come in the last half century.

The recent resume of State finances by Governor Miller proves that the people are getting the business administration the Governor promised when he ran for office two years ago. The man who keeps his word never loses standing with the people.

What do you want to know about Nature Subjects? Send any questions of general interest to the Nature Notes Department of this paper, enclosing self-addressed and stamped envelope for reply.

Can You Answer These Questions?

1. Do oaks have jaws?
2. How much seed will a quail or bob-white eat in a day?
3. Please tell me what a swift is. I always supposed it was a bird, but read recently of a fox called swift.

Answers In Tomorrow's Nature Notes

Answers To Previous Questions.

1. Does the ostrich bury its head when frightened and consider itself hidden? This now is considered a myth. But young ostriches will flop down feigning death, with the head and neck stretched on the ground, and, of course, are more or less hidden by this trick, somewhat as baby partridge chicks are hidden when they squat.

2. Is there any odor to snakes? In the case of the fox snake, Coluber vulpinus, there is this snake getting its common name from the peculiarity that it has glands near the base of the tail with a secretion that recalls the musty smell associated with foxes' cages at the zoo, or fox dens.

3. Do jackrabbits always turn white in winter? No, the change in coat depends on temperature. Where the ground is snow-covered practically all winter, the white tailed jackrabbit's coat becomes mostly white, except for white ear-tips which stay black. The fur is not actually all white, but is left in patches. Some dark fur left unchanged along the back is veiled with long white hairs that over-lay it. Specimens living where there is little snow, bleach somewhat but do not turn white. The snow-shoe rabbit of the Rocky Mountains turns white all but ear-tips; the black-tailed jackrabbit shows practically no change in coat.

TWENTY AND TEN YEARS AGO.

July 26, 1902—Death of John Crispell on Taylor street. James Williams died on Linderman avenue.

Wreck on West Shore at Harrington Park. Fireman William C. Randall of Kingston instantly killed.

July 26, 1912—Lawyer Milton O. Auchmoody sustained fractured wrist in cranking his automobile. Cornelius Lucy of Gardiner died of lockjaw at Benedictine Hospital. George Harris badly cut when hurled from his bicycle through plate glass window in S. E. Eighmey's store.

Bath in West Africa.

The Bantu of West Africa makes elaborate preparations for a real soak by digging a hole in the ground, in which he puts seven herbs, a quantity of peppers, cardamom seeds and bushes, then he pours in a lot of boiling hot water. After he gets in, a light frame covered with clay is put over the hole to keep in the steam. After hours of steaming the bather emerges and is washed off with clean water, then kneaded by a professional for one hour, when he dons his scanty clothing and goes his way "shivering with cleanliness."

In Grandmother's Time

In grandmother's day coffee had to be "parched"—after it came green from the store, where it was kept in an open sack under the counter.

Maybe it got burnt; or was taken off half raw. By the time it was boiled and got to the table it was something very different from the Reliance Coffee of today.

Reliance Coffee is roasted by the special Reliance process; packed fresh from the ovens, into air-tight tin canisters; all the strength and flavor sealed in and preserved clear through to the cup on the table. That's why it "TASTES as good as it smells."

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Cairo, Egypt, July 26.—Thirty-four French soldiers have been killed in widespread disorders throughout Syria following receipt of news that the League of Nations council has ratified the French mandate for Syria, according to advices received here today.

The situation in Syria is described as being "extremely serious."

It was reported a month ago that Charles R. Crane, former American ambassador to China, had been ordered arrested by the French military authorities in Syria on the charge that he had aided the Syrian nationalists. This report, however, proved untrue.

HUNGARIAN'S DRUNK ENDS IN PROMISE OF MARRIAGE.

Joe Barni, a Hungarian of Porterville, town of Saugerties, got fighting drunk Monday evening and at once proceeded to clean house. He picked up a shovel and began wielding it about furiously and also struck Mrs. Stephen Bohart, a widow with whom he had been living. To quell Barni's fury the police were called upon and Officers Richter and Lavelle went to Porterville. They took Barni in charge and brought him to the lockup, where he was given all night to allay his overflow of temper.

Tuesday morning when he faced Justice Abeel in court, Barni was repentant. It was also learned by the court that Barni and Mrs. Bohart had been living as man and wife, without having been married, since last March.

Justice Abeel advised the couple to get married and both agreed to be lawfully joined in wedlock and upon their promise to do so, sentence was suspended.

WOLFF HAD A NARROW ESCAPE: CAR WRECKED.

"Doc" Was on Way Down East Kingston Hill at Time.

Thomas J. Wolff, better known as "Doc" Wolff, who is employed by Undertaker N. D. J. Murphy, had a narrow escape from serious injury Tuesday evening when his Overland touring car left the road on the steep East Kingston hill, shot through a roadside fence and caught fire. At the time "Doc" was on the way down the hill and another car was on the way up. In avoiding the other car "Doc's" car swerved from the road. The Overland was damaged by the force of the collision with the fence and also badly gutted by fire before the flames were extinguished. The car was later towed in to Kingston. This morning "Doc" complained of a lame back, but otherwise appeared unharmed.

Pipe Arch Bridge.

An engineering curiosity, said to be unique to this country and to have only one parallel in Europe, is the pipe arch bridge over the Sudbark river which carries Boston's water supply. The span is eighty feet, and the steel pipe, seven and one-half feet in diameter, rises five and one-half feet above the horizontal at the center. The pressure on the abutments when the pipe is filled with water is great and is resisted by a mass of concrete forty feet thick below each abutment. Across the curved top runs a hand-railed foot bridge. The steel of the pipe in the arched portion is five-eighths of an inch in thickness.

BOY SCOUTS

(Conducted by National Council of the Boy Scouts of America.)

ROTARY INDORSES SCOUTING

At a Rotary club conference held in Duluth, Minn., on the 16th and 17th of March, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, we, the Rotary Clubs of the Fifteenth District, recognize the splendid contribution which the Boy Scout organization is making to the boy life of the nation and to our own district, in the upbuilding of character during the most impressionable years of a boy's life, and

WHEREAS, Boys' work is nationally and internationally recognized as of the highest importance by Rotary International, and

WHEREAS, The Boy Scout motto, "Do a Good Turn Daily," is identical in spirit with our motto "He Profits Most Who Serves Best," thereby making the Boy Scout ideal and the Rotary ideal of service one and the same thing, therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED, that we approve and indorse the work of the Boy Scouts of America; that we recognize in it ideals identical with our own; that we do hereby declare that wherever possible we will lend our influence and leadership to forward the Boy Scout movement in our district, and that our boys' work committees be instructed to call upon Rotary for any service that it may be able to render to the Boy Scouts of America.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that this resolution be spread on the minutes and records of this conference and that a copy of the same be forwarded to the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America, New York City.

FAMILY BELIEVES IN SCOUTING

SCOUTING IN PORTO RICO

Scouts are as eager to be helpful in Porto Rico as their brothers in the States are. A scoutmaster of Aguadilla reports that during a recent epidemic of lathetic plague his scouts made a house-to-house canvass distributing board of health instructions. On another occasion when a fire broke out in the center of the town at two o'clock in the morning, the scoutmaster got in to his uniform and hurried along the street blowing his whistle. The signal was heard and obeyed. In a moment six proud scouts were by his side, ready to do whatever was required of them. The two who had charge of the first-aid pouch had occasion to demonstrate their skill in this line by rendering assistance to a fireman who had cut his hand, and the others stood on guard duty over property when it was carried to a place of safety.

PREPARED SCOUTS

David Stein, a San Francisco boy scout, while in camp last summer fell over a 20-foot embankment, striking his head against a rock. Two fellow scouts, Homer Sweetman of Troop 25 and Eugene Brown of Troop 28, were luckily on hand and ran promptly to the injured lad's assistance. Having no first-aid kit with them, they tore one of their own shirts into strips for bandages which they used to bind up their friend's wounds. This done, they improvised a stretcher with poles and their coats and got the patient to camp, where he received regular medical treatment from the camp physician, who declared that the boys' prompt and intelligent action had doubtless saved Stein's life.

SCOUTING THE BIGGEST YET

Lieut. Erroll B. Har, scoutmaster of Troop 142, Philadelphia, has had a sufficiently venturesome life, having served in the National Guard along the Rio Grande during the Mexican trouble, and in the thick of things during the recent war overseas. He has paddled the river Jordan and sojourned along the Nile also, but he says his greatest, most thrilling adventure is being the leader of a troop of boy scouts.

"Takes Him Down a Peg."

To take a person down a peg or two is to cause him to suffer in dignity. The expression comes from the custom of lowering a ship's flag, which is regulated by a line attached to pegs. The higher the ship's colors are raised in saluting, the greater the honor.

Pocket Sundial.

An interesting invention is the pocket sun watch or sundial. On the inside cover of the watch various latitudes are given. The latitude nearest your location is noted. The style, or small pointer which casts the shadow on the dial, is then lifted to the angle 35, 40 or 45 degrees, the one most nearly corresponding. The variation of the compass is then noted, and the sun watch held in an horizontal position, and the compass needle pointing to that number of degrees east or west. The sun watch will then be in correct position and the style or pointer pointing to the true north. The shadow thrown by the style will be sun time. Meantime can be determined by adding to or subtracting from sun time the number of minutes shown on the equation table for the most nearly corresponding day of the year.

Wedding Days in Holland.

In orderly Holland, where everything happens by rule, the different classes of society choose different days of the week on which to be married. For some unknown reason Monday is society's day and marriage fees for that day amount to a sum approximately $24. On Saturdays the charge is $2, or nothing at all if the couple do not wish a separate ceremony, and are willing to join a group of 20 couples. At these group marriages, the clerk reads the service once, all the couples making the responses in chorus.

Where Western Civilization Touches Elbows with Past Ages

The Turks once threatened to overrun Europe as is well known to students of history, but few have had an opportunity to see the traces the invaders left on their march. This old fortress, at Semendria, in Jugoslavia was built many years ago when the Turks were striving to reach Vienna. It is still standing. But the progress of modern times has reached even this spot, for the fort and adjacent grounds are now sources as a railroad yard. Its use for the more modern purpose is growing more important daily as the Jugoslav government improves its railway transportation facilities.

The need of rail improvements is great for the tremendous grain and agricultural crop of the country finds its best market to the west, and there are not at present any adequate lines to the Adriatic ports which were allotted to Jugoslavia by the Peace Council. Col. W. G. Atwood, who served as head of the American Advisory Staff, in a survey of the resources of Jugoslavia, declares that while the agricultural wealth of the country is great, the exploitation of vast mineral resources has barely scratched the surface of the indicated supply. Other American experts have emphasized the possibilities of the country with regard to its water power—estimates placing it as high as 7,000,000 horse power.

The Government has awarded a contract for a 1200 mile railroad system to connect Belgrade, the capital, with the Adriatic ports of Split and Kotor, which will take six years to complete, and in addition to this has placed contracts for other lines to connect the narrow gauge roads that will serve many other sections.

The improvement of water transportation is another important measure which the Government has decided upon, and canals are being dug in several parts of the country. The view above shows a small river boat which is in common use on many streams.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

by MARY GRAHAM BONNER

SPIDERS

"There is the Jumping-Spider family," said Mrs. Wolf-Spider. "They are interesting creatures. It is said. They are small and handsome, they imitate ants and do a number of tricks. They spring and jump of course as their name tells you." Billie Brownie was calling on her.

"Yes," said Billie Brownie. "I like to hear about the different kinds. Do tell me some more, Mrs. Wolf-Spider."

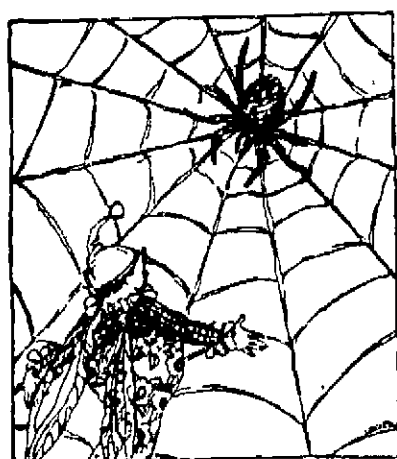

"Well, there is the Crab-Spider. He has two front pairs of legs and he runs sideways. All his family are just like him, too. They take after the original Crab-Spider."

"They don't spin webs to catch the insects. They're fond of sitting in flowers and often they look like the flowers, so are not noticed."

"Some of them are white and some are yellow and some wear red bands for decorations."

"Do they just sit in the flowers?" asked Billie Brownie.

"Dear me, no," said Mrs. Wolf-Spider. "They are too much like spiders to do anything so mild as that. They sit there to catch the insects which come to eat the pollen of the flowers. Isn't that smart of them? They don't go to any effort and they don't work hard at all. They just sit in beautiful flowers and wait for their food to come to them. It's very clever of them, very clever indeed."

And Mrs. Wolf-Spider grinned a spider's grin.

"Tell me some more," said Billie Brownie. "Although I must say that the Crab-Spiders seem rather dreadful to me."

"Look at it from the point of view of the spider," said Mrs. Wolf-Spider. "You see they must eat."

"But they have such a lazy way of doing their marketing," said Billie Brownie.

"Why should they go hurrying about when they don't need to? Answer me that," said Mrs. Wolf-Spider. "Or perhaps you'd rather not. I'm sure you could have no answer to that worthy of hearing so I will tell you more of the ways of spiders."

"There is Theridion Tepidiorum," said Mrs. Wolf-Spider.

"There is, is there?" said Billie Brownie. "Well, I'll take your word for that. I'm sure I don't know whether there is or not, considering I don't know what you're talking about."

"How ignorant of you," said Mrs. Wolf-Spider. "When that spider is better known than any other."

"I didn't know it, I'll have to admit it," said Billie Brownie.

"Too bad, too bad, such ignorance," said Mrs. Wolf-Spider.

"It is the common house spider who builds webs in the corners of the rooms and upon the ceilings and invites her enemies to come and call on her."

"Gracious, what a name for an ordinary, common house spider to have."

"Dear me," said Mrs. Wolf-Spider. "We all have our special names. I have the name of Lycosidae, which can be translated quite correctly into the name of Wolf-Spider."

"My name is a good name," Mrs. Wolf-Spider went on. "For I hunt and catch my enemy on the run! Some of the family build tunnels in the ground for safe hiding places."

"Now I shall carry my children on my back after they come out of the eggs and they'll stay there until they can take care of themselves."

"Some of them will eat each other, some will fall off, others will get their way carefully and cleverly. It's not for me to say."

"They will do what is best for themselves. I know."

"What a strange mother you are!" said Billie Brownie.

"Oh no, quite a natural, usual wolf-spider mother," said Mrs. Wolf-Spider.

"You know, Billie Brownie, you asked me to tell you about spiders. I'm telling you the truth."

"If you want to hear about great mother love, don't come to me."

"I think you must be right," said Billie Brownie. "But I am most grateful to you for all you've told me. I am much interested in knowing about you and your various relatives and your ways, and I thank you right cordially."

JUST EVERYDAY GOOD-THINGS

The ordinary food appeals to the normal appetite and the simpler the combination the better it is liked.

Buttered Potatoes.

Peel one dozen small potatoes and put them whole in a casserole, with one-half dozen medium-sized onions, and four tablespoons of butter, three teaspoons of salt and pepper to taste. Cover and bake in the oven three-quarters of an hour. If the onions are not liked cook without them, adding parsley just as the dish is ready to serve. Mince the parsley very fine and sprinkle on the dish.

Grandmother's Muffins.—Mix together one cupful of cornmeal, one cupful of flour, one-half cupful of light brown sugar, or better, maple sugar, two cupfuls of cold water, and one-half teaspoonful of salt and let stand overnight. In the morning add one-half teaspoonful of soda, dissolved in a tablespoonful of hot water. Beat hard and well, drop into hot, well-greased gem pans and bake in a moderate oven for twenty-five minutes.

Caramel Fruit Pudding.—Melt two-thirds of a cupful of sugar in a smooth saucepan, stirring constantly so that it will not burn. Heat one pint of milk and mix thoroughly with the melted sugar. Add four tablespoons of cornstarch, mixed with a little cold milk; cook directly over the heat or over hot water for 20 minutes. Add one tablespoonful of butter, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one egg, stirring constantly; take from the fire and add vanilla; place in a wet mold and set on ice. Turn from the mold and serve sliced peaches on top and around the pudding and cover with whipped cream. Canned peaches or apricots may be used instead.

Washington Pie.—Cream one-half cupful of butter, add gradually one and one-half cupfuls of sugar, three-fourths of a cupful of milk, mixed with three well-beaten eggs. Add two and three-fourths cupfuls of flour sifted with three teaspoonsful of baking powder. Bake in two round cake tins. Put raspberry jam between the layers and cover with whipped cream. Put whipped cream garnished with jam over the top.

Wild Parsnip "Suicide Plant."

The "wild parsnip" is best known as "water hemlock" and other common names for it are spotted hemlock, heaver poison, musquash root, cowbane and spotted cowbane. Several species of the water hemlock grow commonly in Canada.

Parts of some of these are deadly in their effects. This fact was well known to the Indian, by whom the root, the most poisonous part, was sometimes used for self-destruction, being very rapid in its action. It was known to the Indians as the "suicide plant." The roots have a sweetish and not unpleasant taste and a rather parsnip-like odor. Cases have been reported of horses being killed by eating roots upturned by the plow. Animals have also been reported to have been poisoned, especially in the spring, by drinking water from wet places where the water hemlock existed.

BORAH SEES PLOT TO KILL UNIONS

(Copyright, 1922, by International News Service.)

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, July 26.—Destruction of union labor, deliberately planned by capital upon the termination of the World War, was declared by Senator William E. Borah, chairman of the senate labor committee, today to be the fundamental, underlying cause of the existing coal and railroad situation.

Senator Borah recalled that he had charged when he fought the last army appropriations bill that the "real danger of a big military establishment" was that capital hoped and expected to employ it against union labor.

"Recent developments certainly seem to justify the view I took of a large army then, and which I still hold now," Borah added. "One reason certain big interests supported and encouraged the presidential aspirations of General Leonard Wood in 1920 was that they were confident if he were elected to the White House he would place a battalion of soldiers at the doorway of union labor wherever and whenever those interests deemed the use of armed force necessary to crush union labor."

Borah said he was "deeply concerned about the incalculable hardships the continued deadlock was bound to impose upon the great masses of the people."

"In its determination to crush union labor, capital started out as soon as the World War was finished to defeat wages, to slash them irretrievably, to reduce them below the level of the 'living wage' or not," Borah continued. "And yet no deflation of wages can be justified as long as living conditions remain as they are, and living conditions are certain to continue as they are unless there is a reduction in living costs all along the line, and there can be no reduction in living costs unless there is a corresponding reduction in present extravagant expenditures and taxation. The evil of the industrial situation confronting us is an economic one, and its only solution is economy from the top down and the bottom up."

Borah said he believed "nationalization" or governmental control of the coal industry was inevitable and that this belief led him to introduce his bill for the creation of a commission to delve deep into the coal situation as it has existed for the last ten years.

"The production of coal is just as vital to the welfare of the people as transportation and it is imperative that there should be government regulation of the coal industry as it is to have the government regulate other public utilities like the railroads," Borah said.

He hoped to have his committee act promptly on his bill and report it favorably to the senate so it might be passed at this session of congress.

Don't Spoil Your Child's Hair By Washing It

When you wash your child's hair be careful what you use. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulisified coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It is very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulisified in a cup of glass with a little warm water is all that is required. Simply moisten the hair with water, and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. You can get Mulisified at any drug store, and a few ounces will last everyone in the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulisified.—Advertisement.

PRIORITY ORDER ISSUED BY I. C. C.

The text of the priority order issued by the Interstate Commerce Commission at a late hour on Tuesday is as follows:

It appearing, in the opinion of the commission, that an emergency which requires immediate action exists upon the lines of each and all the common carriers by railroad subject to the Interstate Commerce act, east of the Mississippi river, including the west bank crossings thereof, and because of the inability of said common carriers properly and completely to serve the public in the transportation of essential commodities, it is ordered and directed:

1. That each such common carrier by railroad, to the extent that it is currently unable promptly to transport all freight traffic offered to it for movement or to be moved over its line or lines of railway, shall give preference, and priority to the movement of each of the following commodities: Food for human consumption, feed for live stock, live stock, perishable products, coal, coke and fuel oil.

2. That, to the extent any such common carrier by railroad is unable under the existing interchange and car service rules to return cars to its connections promptly, it shall give preference and priority in the movement, exchange, interchange and return of empty cars intended to be used for the transportation of the commodities specially designated in paragraph numbered 1 hereof.

3. That any and all such common carriers by railroad which serve coal mines, whether located upon the line or lines of any such railroad or customarily dependent upon it for car supply, herein termed coal-loading carriers, be, and they are hereby authorized and directed, whenever unable to supply all uses in full, to furnish such coal mines with open-top cars suitable for the loading and transportation of coal, in preference to any other use, supply, movement, distribution, exchange, interchange or return of such cars; provided, that the phrase "suitable for the loading and transportation of coal" as used in this order shall not include or embrace flat (fixed) bottom gondola cars with sides less than 36 inches in height, inside measurement, or cars equipped with racks, or cars which, on July 1, 1922, had been definitely retired from service for the transportation of coal and stenciled or tagged for other service.

4. That all such common carriers by railroad other than coal-loading carriers, herein termed non-coal-loading carriers, be, and they are hereby authorized and directed to deliver daily to a connecting coal-loading carrier or carriers, or to an intermediate non-coal-loading carrier for delivery through the usual channels to a coal-loading carrier, or carriers, empty coal cars up to the maximum ability of each such non-coal-loading carrier to make such deliveries and of each such connecting coal-loading carrier to receive and use the coal cars so delivered for the preferential purposes herein set forth.

5. That all such common carriers by railroad be, and they are hereby authorized and directed to discontinue the use of cars suitable for the loading and transportation of coal for the transportation of commodities other than coal, so long as any coal mine remains to be served by it with such cars; and as to each non-coal-loading carrier, so long as deliveries of any such cars to connecting carriers may be due or remain to be performed under the terms of this order.

6. That all such common carriers by railroad be, and they are hereby authorized and directed to place an embargo against the receipt of coal or other freight transported in open-top cars suitable for coal loading, by any consignee, and against the placement of such open-top cars for consignment to any consignee who shall fail or refuse to unload such coal or other freight so transported in coal cars and placed for unloading, within twenty-four hours after such placement, until all coal or other freight so transported in coal cars and so placed has been unloaded by such consignee, and shall notify the commission of such action. This authorization and direction as to embargoes shall not interfere with the movement of coal to tidewater or the Great Lakes for transshipment to water, nor shall it apply where the failure of the consignee is due directly to errors or disabilities of the railroad in delivering cars.

7. That in the supply of cars to mines upon the lines of any coal-loading carrier, such carrier is hereby authorized and directed to place, furnish and assign such coal mines with cars suitable for the loading and transportation of coal in accordance with the following order of classes, namely:

Class 1—For such special purposes as may from time to time be specially designated by the commission or its agent therefor. And subject thereto:

Class 2 (a)—For fuel for railroads and other common carriers, and for bunkering ships and vessels; (b) for public utilities which directly serve the general public under a franchise therefor, with street and interurban railways, electric power and light, gas, water and sewer works; ice plants which directly serve the public generally with ice, or supply refrigeration for human foodstuffs; hospitals; (c) for the United States, state, county or municipal governments, and for their hospitals, schools, and for their other public institutions—all to the end that such common carriers, public utilities, quasi public utilities and governments may be kept supplied with coal for current use for such purposes, but not for storage, exchange or sale. And subject thereto:

Class 3 (as to each coal-loading carrier which reaches mines in Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee and Alabama)—For bituminous coal consigned to any Lake Erie port for transshipment by water to ports upon Lake Superior. And subject thereto:

Class 4 (as to all such common carriers by railroad)—Commercial sizes of coal for domestic use. And subject thereto:

Class 5—Other purposes. No coal embraced in Classes 1, 2, 3 or 4 shall be subject to reclassification or diversion, except for some purpose in the same class or a superior class in the order of priority herein prescribed.

8. That all rules, regulations and practices of said common carriers by railroad with respect to car service as that term is defined in said act are hereby suspended so far as they conflict with the directions hereby made.

9. That this order shall be effective from and after July 26, 1922, and shall remain in force until the further order of the commission.

10. That copies of this order be served upon the carriers hereinbefore described, and that notice of this order be given to the general public, depositing a copy thereof in the office of the secretary of the commission at Washington, D. C.

By the commission, Division 5:
GEORGE B. MCGINTY, Secretary.

Another order dealt chiefly with the routing of all shipments by the shortest routes and also was effective July 26.

The text of the routing service order follows:

The subject of routing of freight traffic being under consideration and it appearing to the commission that an emergency exists upon the lines of all carriers by railroad in the United States subject to the Interstate Commerce act, which requires immediate action; and that each of such carriers by reason of unfavorable labor conditions and shortage of fuel supply, is unable to transport the traffic offered it so as to properly serve the public;

Therefore, in order best to promote the service in the interest of the public and commerce of the people, it is ordered and directed:

1. That from and after July 26, 1922, and until the further order or direction of this commission, all said common carriers by railroad are hereby directed to forward traffic to destination by the routes most available to expedite its movement and prevent congestion, without regard to the routing thereof made by shippers or by carriers from which the traffic is received or to the ownership of the cars, and that all rules, regulations and practices of said carriers with respect to car service are hereby suspended and superseded insofar as conflicting with the directions hereby made.

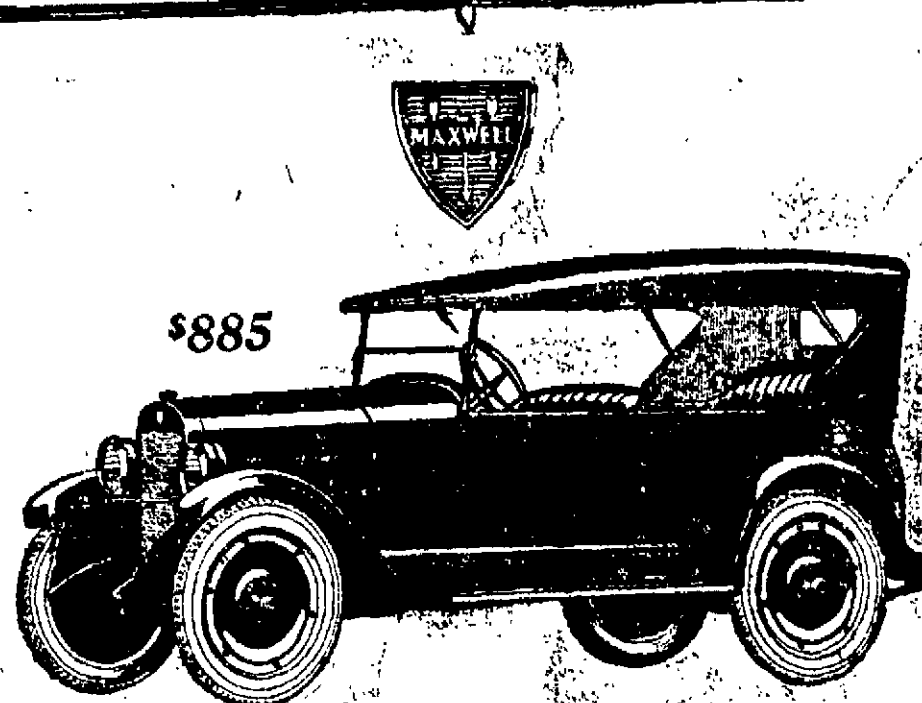

2. That inasmuch as such disregard for routing is deemed to be due to carriers' disability, the rates applicable to traffic so forwarded by routes other than those designated by shippers, or by carriers from which the traffic is received, shall be the rates which were applicable at date of shipment over the routes so designated, unless the rates applicable over such designated routes are higher, in which event the rates applicable over the route of movement will apply.

3. That in each instance where the traffic is routed, or rerouted, by carriers by railroad under the authority of this order, the carrier responsible for such routing or rerouting, shall, within twenty-four hours thereafter, deposit in the United States mail a notice addressed to the consignee of the traffic, stating: The car numbers and initials, places and dates of shipment, the routing, and respective routes over which the traffic is moving and that charges for the transportation of the traffic including transportation and schedules of rates, fares and charges as those terms are defined in said act, will be the same as they would have been if such routing, or rerouting had not taken place unless, as above provided for, the rates applicable over the route the traffic moves is less.

4. That in the case of shipments in private cars, which are subject to equalization of empty mileage, and also of fruits and vegetables, live poultry and other shipments customarily recognized upon instructions of the consignor, a telegraphic notice of the diversion shall be sent to the consignor by the carrier responsible therefor.

5. That in executing the directions of the commission contained in this order, the common carriers involved shall proceed without reference to contracts, agreements or arrangements now existing between them with references to the divisions of the rates of transportation applicable to said traffic; that such divisions shall be, during the time this order remains in force, voluntarily agreed upon by and between said carriers, and that, upon failure of the carriers to so agree, said divisions shall be hereafter fixed by the commission in accordance with pertinent authority conferred upon it by said act.

6. That copies of this order and direction be served upon all carriers by railroad in the United States sub-

Language.

Quickest way to make an all-round American out of a new arrival is to teach him to talk our language. In this field, naturalized aliens can perform a powerful service for the country they have adopted—or, which has adopted them, if you want to split hairs. Government announces that the last census showed 1,488,048 in our country, ten years older, unable to speak English. The other 80 per cent of our foreign-born population speak English—often better than the native-born.

CO. DAIRYMEN'S LEAGUE MEETING

Latest Example of Practical Cooperation is Warmly Praised in Formal Preamble and Resolution.

The Ulster County Dairymen's League held its monthly meeting at Stone Ridge with about 75 dairymen present. Director Chester Young discussed with the members present the milk marketing situation and the business which was taken up at the recent July meeting of the directors of the association in New York.

The following resolution was adopted at the meeting regarding the recent marriage of Millard Davis, County Dairymen's League president:

"Whereas, our president has been a staunch advocate of the cooperative movement and has taken an active part in promoting the same, and

"Whereas, the cooperative movement best be exemplified by taking to himself a wife when he becomes the proper age and living happily; and

"Whereas, our president has reached the proper age and has exemplified the proper spirit of cooperation, therefore he is

"Resolved, that the Ulster County Dairymen's League expresses its best wishes to his bride and himself and wish him the best of success, and that a copy of this resolution be published in the county papers, the Dairymen's League News and the Ulster County Farm Bureau News."

Following the meeting the members adjourned en masse to the Pine Bush flats at Kerhonkson in order to serenade the bride and groom.

Grand Falls of Labrador.

The Grand falls of the Canadian Labrador are on the Hamilton river (also called the Grand and the Ashuapmuk). This river rises in the Labrador highlands to an elevation of 1,700 feet, and after a precipitous course of 800 miles, empties into Melville lake, an extension of Hamilton lake, on the Atlantic. The Grand falls, which are the greatest in North America, occur about 220 miles from its mouth. In a distance of 12 miles the river drops 700 feet, culminating at a width of 200 feet, in a sheer drop, magnificent in aspect, of 310 feet. The volume of water dropping vertically is immense. Immediately below the falls are violent rapids, and the river sweeps through a deep and narrow canyon. The scenery is dark and gloomy, the country through which the river passes being for the most part a dreary wilderness of barren rock.

Three Sights of Genoa.

"Genoa la Superba" possesses three monuments which always attract visitors, the statues of Balilla, Mazzini and Columbus. Every Genoese child is taught to admire the young patriot Balilla, who at the age of fifteen threw a stone which was the signal for the revolt against the hated Austrian troops, and in one of the city squares is a graceful fountain in his memory with a bronze statue of him. Mazzini, the great orator and reformer, has a statue of marble and so has Columbus. The great discoverer leans on an anchor, and at his feet reclines an Indian maiden, representing America. The pedestal is adorned with allegorical figures of Religion, Science, Geography, Strength and Wisdom with reliefs between them of scenes from the life of the great sailor.

"All Brain and No Body"

Young Dick had grown up thinking he had a great future before him. He had his eyes through the 27 degrees, was a member of the High School, had Beta Kappa at college.

When he was twenty-one he went into a bank. He expected to supplant the president in a very few years.

But after he had been working six months, his ambition began to go. He had to face himself to the coffee and face himself through the day. He went home at night too tired to eat. His work got poorer and poorer.

One day the man at the desk said to him: "This trouble with you is that you've been all brain and no body."

But he was not enough to take the hint. He began to drink. The Club Diner was his regular and tonic. The effect was magical. He began to enjoy his food. He felt better, brighter, more cheerful. He wasn't worried yet, but he's on his way.

If you don't thoroughly enjoy the fine flavor and tonic effect of Utica Club Diner, you can get your money back after drinking six bottles out of a case of 24. Case cost $1.75, plus $1.00 deposit, which is refunded on return of empties.

SNAKE IS FIGHTER

South American Reptile Attacks Man on Sight.

Bushman Probably the Most Feared and Worst-Tempered of the Earth's Crawling Creatures.

The worst-tempered snake in the world is the so-called bushmaster of South America, writes T. C. Bridges in the London Daily Mail. There are three sorts of bushmasters, of which the largest, called by the Indians the "surucucu," is a yellow monster ranging, when full grown, from nine to thirteen feet in length.

This creature, which is extremely plentiful in the damp forest, attacks on sight. Without the slightest warning it comes hurtling out of a thicket and drives straight at the intruder. And its bite, to a white man, means a speedy and horrible death. The Indians, however, have some herbal remedy which protects them against the effect of this poison.

Last year a man sent on a message from one ranch in Bahia to another did not arrive. Search was made and his body was discovered with a great "surucucu" wrapped round it.

The bite was killed, and then it was found that the unfortunate messenger's body was one mass of bites. There were literally scores of punctures from the poison-dealing fangs.

The "surucucu" has another peculiarity which, so far as is known, is shared by no other serpent only. This is that it is capable of making a sound quite apart from hissing. It is described as a low whistling—a sort of "phew-phew." If one of these creatures is hidden in a hollow tree—a favorable resort—its presence can be detected by the sound it makes.

The smaller bushmaster is known by the Indians as the "apapaco." The name means "lover of fire."

Fire, instead of scaring this snake, attracts it, and by campers in wet forest the cooking fire is always extinguished before sleeping. Otherwise the man who goes to rest in the morning will probably find one of these deadly creatures coiled in the warm campers, and possibly pay for the experience with his life.

In the swamps of Brazil and in every forest pool anacondas abound. Of these, too, there are three sorts.

The largest is the "dermidera," the greatest and most terrible of pythons. It is black in color, and its native name means "the snorer." This is the other snake which makes an audible sound, apart from hissing, a sound comparable with the loud snoring of a sleeping man.

One of these snakes has been killed exceeding 60 feet in length, but trails seen in the swamps seem to indicate the existence of still more monstrous specimens.

Even the smaller anacondas will attack man, and it is highly unsafe to approach a forest pool to drink without first taking due precautions. The anacondas lie in the water, with heads just above the surface, silently awaiting prey.

The Indians of inner Brazil all speak of another snake which, so far, has not been identified by the naturalist. They call it the "salamanca," and describe it as a sort of boa about 20 feet long, but of enormous thickness.

Pocket Sundial.

An interesting invention is the pocket sun watch or sundial. On the inside cover of the watch various latitudes are given. The latitude nearest your location is noted. The style, or small pointer which casts the shadow on the dial, is then lifted to the angle 35, 40 or 45 degrees, the one most nearly corresponding. The variation of the compass is then noted, and the sun watch held in an horizontal position, and the compass needle pointing to that number of degrees east or west. The sun watch will then be in correct position and the style or pointer pointing to the true north. The shadow thrown by the style will be sun time. Meantime can be determined by adding to or subtracting from sun time the number of minutes shown on the equation table for the most nearly corresponding day of the year.

Sneezing Once Presaged Death.

In the ancient world sneezing was the subject of much superstition, and was almost always endowed with sinister import. Jewish folklore has it that in the first ages of the world sneezing was always a presage of death until the coming of Jacob. That snate patriarch, anxious lest he himself should perish from such an insignificant cause, besought the Almighty to endow sneezing with more beneficent attributes, and since then it has been lucky to sneeze between noon and midnight.

The Trumpeter of Cracow.

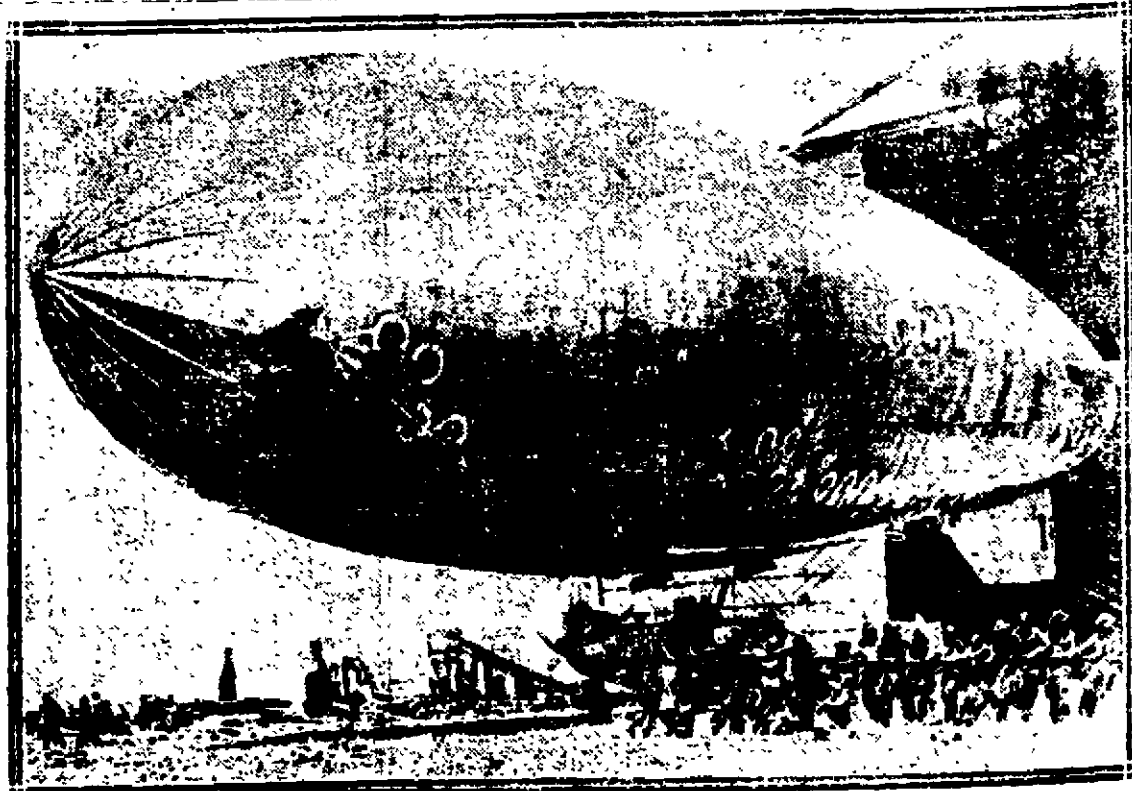

"Centuries ago the Church of St. Mary's, Cracow, had been an outpost of Christendom, used as a watch tower against the invading Tartar; a soldier had been kept continually stationed there to give warning on a trumpet of the first approach of danger. In the Fourteenth century, whilst arousing the city, the trumpeter had been struck in the throat by an arrow. His call had faltered, rallied and sunk. With his dying breath he had sounded a final blast, which had broken off short. The broken call had saved Cracow. Ever since, to commemorate his faithfulness, there has never been an hour, day or night, when his broken trumpet call, ending abruptly in an abyss of silence, has not been heard from the tower."—Coningsby Dawson in his book "The Vanishing Point."

Wise Youngster.

The teacher was trying to impress upon her pupils the importance of doing right at all times, and to bring out the answer, "Bad habits," she inquired: "What is it that we find so easy to get into and so hard to get out of?" There was silence for a moment and then one little fellow answered, "Red."—Boston Transcript.

WETMORE HERE FOR WEEK END GAMES

Sunday's Game Between Parker Axles and Schatz Club Called Off. But Parker Axles Play Colonials Saturday and Sunday—Galt Here Today.

Manager Lou Brown, of the Colonials, was in Poughkeepsie Tuesday talking over baseball matters with Freddie Wetmore of the Parker Axles and members of the Schatz Club, and he stated today that the game that was to have been staged here Sunday between the two Poughkeepsie clubs had been called off as Wetmore decided he did not care to play the game outside of Poughkeepsie.

Wetmore's Parker Axles will be the attraction here on Saturday and Sunday, and both games will be called at 3:30 o'clock. Fullerton will toss them over for the Axles in Saturday's game and Elrod will have the assignment for the Sunday game. Ray Galt, the fast Catskill player, was in Kingston today, and it was expected that he would be given a chance in the game this afternoon with the D. & H. Generals to display his wares. The Colonial management expects to sign Galt up for the remainder of the season. He is a good pitcher and also an infield player, and it is believed he will strengthen the locals. He has been playing this season with Coxsackie.

COFFEY IS KNOCKED OUT BY SIEGEL

In the Fourth Round by a Short Right Hook to Jaw—Local Welter Is Outweighed and Outclassed.

Nate Siegel, battle-scarred Boston welterweight, knocked out Vince Coffey, local boxer, in the fourth round of the scheduled twelve round bout at the Knickerbocker A. C. at Albany on Tuesday night at Chadwick park. A short right hook to the jaw sent Coffey out on his feet. The Kingston boy reeled on his heels and floundered about the ring for a few seconds before he went down for the count.

The contest was an even affair until the time of the knockout but it was apparent, Coffey was not in Siegel's class and that the weight advantage the Boston boy had would prove a big factor in deciding the winner.

Coffey waged a game battle but Siegel never let up in his attack. He crowded the Kingston boxer at every move and was shooting home hard lefts and rights to the stomach at will. Coffey fought off his man several times with elbows to the jaw.

The first round was an even affair. Coffey hooking with his left to the jaw while Siegel played for the body. Coffey carried the second round by outboxing his opponent and shooting two stiff rights to the jaw. The closing minute of the third round saw the start of Coffey's mishap as Siegel hooked a hard right to the jaw and followed with another right that cut Coffey's left eye.

The fourth was almost over when Coffey, leading to Siegel, ran into a short right hook to the jaw that put him out on his feet. He staggered before collapsing in the center of the ring. Referee Tibbitts and Timer Campbell tolled off the ten seconds. Coffey making a futile effort to regain his feet at the count of eight. The knockout came after two minutes and forty-two seconds of fighting. Siegel's weight was announced as 152 pounds, while Coffey's was given as 145.
